Maryland Club Gets Dates Formerly Assigned to Jamestown Track. Virginia-Bred Horses Expected to Make Good Showing.

BALTIMORE. MD. March 20.—
Horses of all ages and of various abilities representing half a dozen owners constitute the stable of James Fitzsimmons is preparing at Gravesend, one of the most famous of New York's yeld race tracks, for the first spring meeting of the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association at Prince George's Park, near Bowie. The Southern Maryland Agricultural Association at Prince George's land Agricultural Association track is situated indway between Baltimore and Washington, and its coming meeting will inaugurate the Eastern racing season, the Jockey Club of New York having taken Bowie into the Eastern fold fast winter and assigned to the new track the dates which formerly were the property of the Jamestown Jockey Club.

The horses James Fitzsimmons will take at Bowie April 1, are iwenty-one. BALTIMORE, MD., March

Thirteen or fourteen horses of the guincy stables, which sent Trojan out to win the Futurity last August at aratoga are in Fitzsimmons's stable, uto Trojan and Double Earle are not mong them. They belong to a dision of the stable that will race in entucky and Canada this year under the management of Stephen Lawier, and beside Lawiers bunch, there are wo other divisions of the Quincy table, one of which will be trained by dward Phelan, and the other by little like Daly. Both of these will race t Bowle.

Two-Year-Olds Strong.

The two-year-olds of the stable are mainly Star Shoots, Ogdens, Migration and Waterboys, recruited from the breeding establishment of John E. Maiden, at Hamburg Pince. One of the Ogdens is a full brother of The Masquerader, the juvenials sensation of the early Maryland meetings of last spring. This fellow will be known to students of the dope as Costumer, and he is a tinger in conformation and marking of the Masquerader. The variest tyro would pick him as a near relative of the Masquerader, which is preparing at Benning track for the Bowle stable. Costumer showed a bit of speed last fall, and is a forward youngster this spring. Two other Ogdens of promisare. Tattletale and Wayfarer, the former son of Love Note and the latter he son of Miss Angle. They have done as well as the youngsters at Gravesend. Fitzsimmons trinks highly of Navigator, a son of Star Shoot and Ethellee. This fellow is of the family of Meridan, his dam being a grand dam of Richard Carmens, famous Broomstick, which won the Kentucky Derby in 1911 lie is as ouick as a cat, and his trainer believes he will come to hand early.

Winston-Salem Club Has Thirty Players to Make Up Regular Team.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 20.—Thirty or more younssters have been signed by Manager Charlie Clancy, of the local club, for the coming campaign, and they will begin to roll in on Monday for try-outs. It has been clancy's custom in previous years to have only a few men report, say one man for each position outside of the pitchers and catchers, but this year he had no foundation to fall back on from the 1914 club, owing to the fact that the ruling which prohibits any club in the circuit from carrying more than one man who has played in more than fiteen games in a league rated higher than class D, prevented those of last year's crew who were real ball players from coming back. Clancy is confident, however, that from the material he will have on hand to select from he can develop another pennant winner and that the ruling will not hurt the Twins one bit. We certainly hope this is true, but do not hesitate to say that we have our doubts about it. The other managers are all busy and will have their men begin reporting about the middle of the month. The regular season starts on April 22, and by that time each leader promises to have his men in tip-top condition, but as that is the same old cry we hear from year to year, why say any more about it? The officials of the local club have booked an unusually strong list of exhibition games for the Twins. The philadelphia Athletics are scheduled to perform at Prince Albert Park on April 5, while efforts will be made to secure dates with other big league clubs.

With the Amatuers

The Richmond League is practically ready to open its season, as all four teams are practicing daily and eagerly awaiting the opening game, which will be on Saturday, April 10.

President Crowder, of the Richmond

Mr. Berry, manager of the Portner team, in the Richmond Leugue, has signed up a number of players, who will make the other teams in this league hustle to beat him out for the pennant. Mr. Berry has turned in contracts to the secretary of the commission for the following players: J. J. Berry, T. H. Wells, C. F. Wells, Harry Lee, E. C. Chittum, C. A. Napier, L. J. Gentry, Dimple Dunn and Fred Buick, all members of last season's team, and Albert Burch, R. L. Baur and Tom Bransford, who were members of the Battle Axe team, in the Capital City League.

The "dark horse" of the Richmond League, the Richmond Electric Co., is an unknown quantity at this time, as Manager Lowry has failed to announce the names of the players who will be with him this season. But it is safe to say that when the season opens he will have a team that will compare favorably with the other teams in this league.

The Commercial League will have the following teams this season: Du-plex Envelope Co., Tredegar Iron Works, Woodall & Quarles, Rountree-Cherry Corp., Clarke's Spring and C. S. Luck, formerly Ryan-Smith & Co.

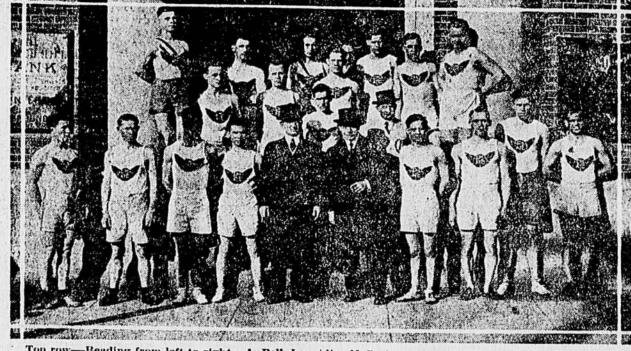

President Volkmann, of the Central League, would like to hear from some one who wants to put a team in his league. This is Class "B" circuit. Ad-dress A. Volkmann, Jr., 204 West Mar-shall Street.

Lee Whitfield for several seasons the mainstay in the box for the Battle Axe team, twice city champions, has left for Savannah, where he will be given a trial by Manager Perry Lipe, His host of friends in Richmond wish him much success.

"Dick" Morris, one of the fastest in-fielders in amateur ball in Richmond, will probably be seen in a Ashland uniform this season

Brief Sketches of Men Who Aspire to Wear Richmond Across Their Breast This Season.

G-CLARENCE E. BERGER—6

Once, and not so many years back, the Richmond College football team seemed destined to go into history as the scoreless wonders. The determined youth who broke up this unseemly trait was none other than Clarence Berger, subject of this sketch.

Clarence Edward joined the Spiders in 1912, and immediately jumped into the spotlight of local fame as a football player. Previous to that time he had been the hero of Fork Union, where he performer on all of the athletic teams, and creditably, too.

Baseball was his particular hobby, however, and in his prep school days he roved all over the field, sometimes appearing in the box, again behind the bat, and again in the gardens or on the initial sack. Always, however, he was the star with the willow.

Joining Richmond College, he made good at football, but did not linger until the blue birds whistled for balls and gloves. He hich himself to Fredericksburg College, however, and did good work. Hichmond fans will still remember how glad they were when he signed with the local Virginia Leaguers.

Berger's history with Richmond need not be written. He made good without difficulty, although at one time, early in the city, he was writing to the Appalachian League for a berth. He found his batting eye that trip, probably through fear, but never again was his job in jeopardy. He hit above .300 during the season. Clarence was sold to Pittsburgh, but the wave of economy swept him back to Richmond, where his host of friends expect great things from the big boy.

It would be a shame to tell this lad's age. Sufficient to say that he cannot vote. His home is in Falls Church, Va. Clarence is well up to six feet in height, weighs about 165 pounds, and throws and bats—how he bats—right-handed.

MAKES RULES FOR TOURNEY

LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION

to Encourage Junior Events.

NEW YORK, March 20.—R. D. Wrenn, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, announced to-day the conditions which would govern the entry list for the national champion-ship tournament for 1915 at the West Side Club, Forest Hills, N. Y. The executive committee found a strong sentiment in favor of continuing the tournament strictly as an open event. The following rules govern the entries:

1. That all entries must be made through the secretary of the club on subassociation of which the applicant is a member.

to members of clubs or subasociations belonging to the United States Na-tional Lawn Tennis Association. Five sections were designated as places for holding sectional doubles championships, as follows:

Southwestern and Northwestern. A team of four men will be sent to the Panama Pacific International tournament. All former and future national champions will receive standard medals in the form of gold tennis balls.

All clubs are requested to include junior events to encourage school boys in their tournament fixtures. Invitation tournaments will be restricted after this season.

ROCHESTER WANTS TO TRAIN IN BROCKTON

BROCKTON, MASS., March 20.—Instead of going South for its spring training, the Rochester club of the International league may come to this city, according to William Littler, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who, to-day, received a letter from Stephen D. Flanagan, owner of the Center Street Grounds, and secretary of the Providence club of the same league. The management of the Rochester club is said to be anxious to come here, providing arrangements can be made with the Y. M. C. A. for the use of its swimming tank and gymnasiums. The plan is to start training on April 6.

Wrestlers Get No Decision.

LYNCHBURG, VA., March 20.—In an amateur wrestling match here to-night between I. L. Gravett, of the Jefferson Athletic Club, of Roanoke, and Elijah Matthews, of the Cardinal Athletic Club, this city put up a wonderful fight, which was declared a draw after one hour's mat work, neither being able to secure a fall. Matthews had Gravett several times in close quarters but was unable to hold him down.

Playing or Teaching for Money or Accepting Expenses for Contests Are Violations—Fake Authors and Caddies Also Under Ban.

At the last meeting of the United States Golf Association, the subject of the amateur rule in all its bearings was referred to the executive committee, with instructions to amend the bylaws by the use of such language as would, if possible, more fully and clearly express its meaning. Most careful consideration has been given to the matter ever since, keeping in mind the discussion that took place at the annual meeting. The amendments as finally decided upon are as follows:

Accepting Expenses for Contests

The game was featured by the hitting of Shackelford and the pitching of Bin-ford for Richmond, while Briggs was easily the star for the Emporia boys. Perhaps the most spectacular feature of the whole game was the running for the whole Richmond team fielded in fine form, having only two errors chalked up against them.

In Four Trials.

The Richmond Academy nine defeated the Emporia High School team on Friday, 5 to 4, in the initial game of the season. The game was very exciting throughout, the winning runs being scored in the ninth inning, when Miller, after receiving a base on balls, proceeded to third on a single by Kuyk. D. Shackelford then drove them both in by his fourth hit of the game.

The game was featured by the hitting of Shackelford and the pitching of Rinford for Richmond, while Briggs was easily the star for the Emporia boys.
